

Record bull returns home

WITHERSWOOD Angus recently welcomed home Australia's record priced bull Kingdom K35, who had been in a collection centre for the past few months.

Kingdom K35 has grown out beautifully, but has still maintained his natural thickness, impeccable structure and lovely pleasant nature.

At ABS, Kingdom K35 had the largest semen sales of any Australian Angus Bull in the last financial year, with global sales to New Zealand and Europe, in particular the United Kingdom, Ireland, Switzerland and Finland.

There have also been sales to South America.

Interest in Kingdom K35 is continually growing, and the Beef Week Open Day at Witherswood on Thursday, February 2, 2017, will be a fantastic opportunity for clients and visitors to inspect the magnificent bull and even better, his calves.

Donor cows will also be on display, which are some of the heaviest boned cows with New Zealand genetics, as well as heifers for the heifer challenge and a selection of sale bulls for the annual Witherswood sale, which will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017.

Witherswood aims to produce cattle that can survive under tough conditions, but above all cattle need to have soft skins to enable them to finish on grass.

The direction Witherswood is taking is to produce a cattle type, suited to all conditions and the maternal power of Witherswood cows is something they are proud of.

The team at Witherswood looks forward to seeing their clients and visitors at their open day.

KINGDOM COMES HOME: Kingdom K35 is enjoying being back in the paddock with the cows at Witherswood.
